In Giving, We Receive Your Gift Can Change the Future for Girls Like Jamie

Jamie is a teenage girl who lived in Florence Crittenton's Residential Group Home. She came to us when she was 13 years old. She had been diagnosed with a learning disability, as well as a variety of mental illnesses. These included post-traumatic stress disorder, depression, attention deficit and hyperactivity.

Tragically, family members sexually abused Jamie, beginning when she was as young as 5 years old. At the age of 8, she was removed from her home and spent the next 4 years in and out of various foster homes and group homes. Her life before Florence Crittenton was dreadful.

When she arrived she was extremely sad and confused, angry and frightened, hurt and very mistrustful. She had no self-esteem. With all the challenges Jamie had to face, some might have said that her life was not salvageable.

What Jamie needed was someone who believed in her and a chance to succeed – something we all need and deserve. At Florence Crittenton, there is always hope for a child, no matter what her life was like. We see beyond the tragedies and the disabilities to the possibilities. We provide hope and encouragement where there was none before.

Jamie stayed with us for a year, during which she received counseling, made friends and learned how to build trusting relationships with safe adults enabling her to blossom and grow into a healthy, happy young girl.

Today, Jamie knows she has a chance, and she has hope for a brighter future. She was placed with a loving foster family who has the expertise to address her special needs and challenges.

It takes the work of the community to help our children. It takes the support of the community to fund the programs that give hope to these young girls.

FROM THE EXECUTIVE

For most of us, the holidays are a very special time of year filled with love, laughter, and best of all, family. For some though, the holidays are a difficult and trying time, as is the case with many of the girls living with us, especially since most of them lack family support. That is why we feel it is so important that we do all we can to provide the sense of family that each of them both needs and deserves, but we can't do it without you.

Everything we achieve at Florence Crittenton is due to the generosity of the community. Volunteers, donors, friends and civic leaders all play a role in our ability to provide safety, hope and opportunity to Arizona's at-risk girls. We have truly been blessed over the years to have so many people from the community who care deeply about our mission. I am very grateful for your past generosity and ask that you continue giving during this holiday season.

There are many ways that you can make a difference in our kids' lives. We host a Holiday Drive that runs through the entire month of December. Gifts collected during the drive are handed out to girls living in our Residential Group Home, the Scottsdale Girls Ranch Home and our Transitional Living Homes. The drive is designed to bring joy and gifts to our girls, many of whom have literally been forgotten by their own families. For them, the thought that someone would care enough to give a gift or write a note to them reminds them that they are remembered and they do matter.

We are also in need of volunteers during the holidays to do things such as sort and wrap the gifts that come in during the Holiday Drive, decorate the campus and cottages, or host crafting projects with the girls. No matter what capacity you choose to give, you will be making a difference.

During this time of year, I truly believe that in giving we receive. To you and yours, we wish happy holidays surrounded by loved ones and a new year filled with peace and prosperity.

Wishing you a safe and joyous holiday season,

Linda Volhein

Growing Up is a Hard Thing to Do!

Growing up really is hard to do. But, imagine being a teenager trying to grow up without parents to provide the kind of care and support that every kid needs. That is the situation that the more than 10,000 youth in our state's foster care system are facing. When these young people reach the age of 18, they will "age out" of the foster care system, leaving them with the responsibility of figuring out how to make it on their own. Unfortunately, that is the very time when they need support the most.

Youth in foster care often do not get the help they need with high school completion, employment, accessing health care, continued educational opportunities and housing. Studies of youth who have left foster care have shown they are more likely than those in the general population to not finish high school, be unemployed and be dependent on public assistance. It is not uncommon for many to find themselves homeless, in prison or parents at an early age.

Florence Crittenton's Independent Living (IL) Program is designed to help these vulnerable youth meet the challenges that adulthood will bring. Through the use of a comprehensive curriculum and numerous other community resources, clients are equipped with the necessary tools to make a successful transition into adulthood and out of the foster care system. Young people in this program learn skills such as how to search for employment, completing a professional resume, budgeting, how to balance a checkbook and what educational options are available for them after high school. The program also provides support and advocacy for these clients as they maneuver through a complicated foster care system.

Bernice is a 17-year-old girl who was referred to the IL Program when she was placed in a shelter after being AWOL from the foster care system for a lengthy period of time. Bernice had a little boy during the time she was away from the system who was taken into the custody of CPS when she was found. Once in the program, Bernice began working with a Parent Aid and attended drug education classes to help her move towards reunification with her son.

With the help of her case manager, Bernice re-enrolled in high school, obtained a job, opened a savings account and was eventually reunited with her son. She is an extremely attentive, loving and patient mother. She has come to terms with her past mistakes and has made a commitment to herself and to her son that she will work hard to provide a healthy environment for them both.

FRANCES CARES!

Thanks to Georganne Bryant, owner of Frances, a whimsical new boutique in Phoenix, Florence Crittenton's incentive closet has never looked so good! The incentive closet is a special place where girls living in our residential group home get to go "shopping" as a reward for such things as helping their peers or achieving their personal goals. Georganne donated an amazing collection of clothing and accessories from her sale rack that would make any girl giddy. Thank you, Georganne for your generosity and care!

Supporter Spotlight

Lisa & Randy Johnson

The Johnson family has a true passion to help girls and boys succeed in school and in life.

They have demonstrated this commitment to strengthening our community's young people through their generous support of Florence Crittenton. For more than 4 years, Florence Drive, which is hosted in partnership with Sleep America. The girls are always excited when they each receive a beautiful new pair of sneakers at the celebration, but the highlight of the afternoon is the opportunity they have to spend time socializing with Lisa and her daughter Samantha.

Randy teamed up with Crittenton Youth Academy's Science teacher to give students a very special surprise demonstration about the physics of baseball. Following the demonstration and a very interesting Q & A session, Randy spent time with many of the students personally showing them how to pitch.

In addition to their personal involvement, the Johnsons have also made a significant financial contribution to our agency. Last year, Florence Crittenton was presented with a $100,000 grant through The Randy Johnson Foundation – A National Heritage Foundation. The grant has funded a variety of activities for the girls, outdoor furniture for our four cottage patios, as well as two major renovation projects at our Transitional Living apartment complex and the Scottsdale Girls Ranch home.

We are deeply grateful to the Johnson Family for their love and support of Florence Crittenton's girls.

Other Ways to Give: cash, stock, bonds, real estate, in-kind gifts, tangible personal property, paid up life insurance, charitable trusts, planned or deferred gifts, bequests.

My Story

News, Poems, Stories and Artwork From and About Kids in Florence Crittenton's Programs

Below is a note our Residential Director received from one of Florence Crittenton's former clients.

Hey Todd,

It's me, Tiffany. I just wanted to say hi and thank you for everything. I stopped by last week, but you weren't in. I did see everyone else though, and I'm sure they told you how much I have changed. I am a real girl now. I know it's hard to believe, but it's true. I live in L.A. now and still work at Wendy's. Yesterday, I actually got a promotion and a raise!

I have been clean and sober for three years now. I think about how I was and how I would still be if I didn't get help, and I'm really glad I did. You are one of the people who had the most influence on me, and I just wanted to say Thank You!

Florence Crittenton's Board of Directors recently held their Annual Meeting celebration. Members enjoyed an elegant reception that included music by jazz trio, Mosaic. Special guest and Residential Group Home client, Amber, shared her story of how Florence Crittenton has helped her overcome drug and self-esteem issues enabling her to achieve a healthy, successful and self-sufficient lifestyle.

The renovation at our new shop at 4116 N. 7th Avenue (just north of Indian School) is complete. Staff and volunteers are working hard to sort donations and price merchandise in preparation for our Grand Opening, which will be after the New Year. We will keep you posted on details for the Grand Opening, and we thank you for your continued support of the shop. Donations are being accepted at our new location, or you may call 602-254-7861 to schedule a pick up. If you would like to volunteer at the shop, please call our Volunteer Program Coordinator at 602-288-4567. It's a great way to help our girls while also making some wonderful new friends.

Our ladies' Auxiliary always keeps the girls busy during the holidays, and this year will be no exception. From parties to crafting and concerts to plays, they make sure that each girl has special memories of this festive season.

Auxiliary members tour the new shop during construction
